

EZ-EFI[™] Scores Big At Hotrod & Restoration Trade Show

New self tuning fuel injection system from FAST[™] takes top new product prize at 11th Annual Hotrod & Restoration Show

FAST[™] is constantly seeking innovative EFI solutions for street rod enthusiasts and racers alike. This effort paid off when one of their most recent developments, the EZ-EFI[™] Self Tuning Fuel Injection System, won the Best Hot Rod/Street Rod New Product of the Year $500 & Up award at the 2009 Hotrod & Restoration Trade Show in Indianapolis, IN.

With a generation gap between street rodders, engineers at FAST[™] set out to develop a fuel injection system that would make carb-to-EFI conversion easy for all street enthusiasts, regardless of EFI knowledge. The EZ-EFI[™] incorporates patent-pending technology with the most advanced self tuning control strategy available anywhere. It simply hooks up, takes you through a basic setup Wizard on the included hand-held display and tunes itself as you drive. Capable of handling up to 550 horsepower, this complete system includes the ECU, wide-band O₂ sensor, wiring harness, injectors, optional fuel pump kit and the innovative FAST[™] 4150 Throttle Body. The 4150 Throttle Body is the total package approach for anyone with an existing 4150-type intake manifold.

The Hotrod & Restoration Trade Show is the only show of its kind serving the business-to-business side of the hot rod, street rod, muscle car and restoration markets, and this year's 11th annual show took place in Indianapolis, IN, on March 12-14. Centrally located on the trade show floor, the New Product Showcase is the largest display of new product introductions in the industry. Award winners were announced during the opening breakfast on Friday, March 13.
